HARDING TO DEMAND SENATE STAY ON JOB

Programme Must Be Completed Before Adjournment Is Taken.

ARMS PARLEY FACTOR

Fear Is Felt That Congress Discussions Might Embarrass Visitors.

PRESIDENT NOT WORRIED

Democrats Give Assurance They Will Not Indulge in Partisan Debate.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1921, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Bureau, Paris, Oct. 3.

President Harding has communicated to Republican leaders in the Senate his desire that they carry out the legislative programme now before them without consideration of an early adjournment.

He is not disturbed by the prospect of Congress being in session while the international conference on limitation of armaments is in progress. Announcement to this effect is to be made in the Senate to-morrow by one of the Republican leaders for the purpose of putting an end to the confusion and uncertainty which has arisen over the programme.

Leaders have been shaping their plans with a view to adjourning the present session of Congress not later than November 10, the day before the opening of the armament conference. They have been proceeding on the theory that with the Senate in session while the conference was being held an opportunity would be furnished for partisan Democrats to make speeches and offer resolutions likely to embarrass the Administration in the coming negotiations.

Adjournment on November 10 would mean that the legislative programme would be narrowed down to four measures, the treaties of peace with Germany, Austria and Hungary; the tax bill, the Borch Panama Canal tolls bill and the anti-beer bill, leaving the railroad bill, the allied debt refunding bill, the tariff and other measures to go over until the winter session.

President Harding has let it be known that he has no fear of partisan debate or of Democratic resolutions aimed to throw confusion into the armament parley. He has already taken Senator Underwood, the Democratic leader, into camp as one of the American representatives and he has received assurances that the more influential Democrats look upon it as suicidal politically to attempt to throw monkey wrenches into the limitation of armament conference. He takes the position that public sentiment is strongly supporting his efforts to limit armaments and he feels confident the country would quickly indicate its disapproval of partisan obstructive tactics.

The canal tolls bill will reach a vote October 10 and the treaties on October 14. Prospects are that the rest of October will have to be devoted to the tax bill, and if it is radically amended, as now seems likely, considerable time will be passed in adjusting in conference. Immediately following the passage of the tax bill the anti-beer bill will be brought up, and this is likely to lead to a continuation of the filibuster which has been going on against the measure from time to time for several months.

FRENCH MUNITION WORKERS STRIKE TO HELP DISARM

Quit Shops at St. Ouen, Denouncing Continued Manufacture of War Material for Poland and Little Entente to Be Used Against Russia.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1921, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Bureau, Paris, Oct. 3.

Declaring that France's supplies of munitions are already larger than necessary and that the continued manufacture of war material for Poland and Little Entente States is with a view to their use eventually against Russia, and is contrary to the world's interests, 600 employees of the Petit Vicard Works at St. Ouen refused to go to work this morning.

As soon as the beer bill is out of the way the railroad bill will be brought up. It is doubtful whether either the allied refunding bill or the tariff can be reached at the present session. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has been anxious to get complete authority to refund the $11,000,000,000 debt owed by the Allies to the United States; but the measure, which has already been reported favorably by the Finance Committee, is likely to provoke much debate.

The suggestion is made by some Senators that the British Government should be invited to send a delegation to the armament conference to remind them of their nations' debts while they are here; but the intention of leaders is to push the measure as fast as circumstances will permit. The tariff bill in all probability will have to go over until the next session, but President Harding in conferences with Republican leaders the last few days has made it plain he did not look with favor on any effort to delay the tariff unnecessarily.

COUNCILLOR-ELECT STILL IN PARIS JAIL

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1921, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Bureau, Paris, Oct. 3.

Although the Twentieth Paris Arrondissement yesterday elected Andre Marty, formerly a marine officer, who is now serving a twenty year sentence for abetting the Black Sea mutiny, as a Municipal Councillor, Marty will not be released from prison. In the election he received more than 4,000 votes, while his opponent got less than 2,000.

The Communist leaders have sent an appeal to Premier Briand that the prison doors be opened and Marty be set free, but the Government, it is said, will contend that Marty's conviction carried with it a loss of all civic rights and that, therefore, he is ineligible to serve as Municipal Councillor. A new election is expected, but the Reds declare they will again elect Marty and will continue to do so until the Government decides that the popular will is greater than the election laws.

SOVIET LACKS GOLD FOR TRADE CONTROL

trade and at the time of a change in the Soviet economic policy, threatens to hold up emissaries of several large American firms who are now en route to Russia.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The reply of the Russian Soviet Government to Great Britain's recent note charging intrigue against Great Britain in Central Asia is understood to be on its way to London from Moscow. The note, it is asserted, does not attempt to answer the charges of the British Government except to assert that the evidence secured by the Government was founded on forgeries emanating from a "notorious German agency."

The note maintains that various Soviet officials mentioned by the British Government hold different posts to those attributed to them. It asserts that the Eastern policy of the Soviet has been uniformly friendly to Great Britain and that "Russia is not an anti-British propaganda centre."

Complaint is made in the note that Great Britain has shown herself unfriendly to the Soviet. Instances are recorded of arrests made by Brig.-Gen. Harrington, commander of the British forces in Constantinople.

The note states emphatically that the Soviet Government has had no dealings with the British Indian revolutionists since the signing of the trade agreement. It objects to Great Britain and France taking common action regarding famine relief in Russia and repeats the charge that France has incited Poland and Rumania to war against Soviet Russia.

RIGA, Oct. 3.—In answer to the Russian Soviet demand for the surrender of Gen. The prime condition set forth is that the Soviet promise that these men will not be subject to the death penalty.

HITCHCOCK CALLED BY WILSON ON PACTS

Former President Expected to Frame Plan to Fight Treaty Ratification.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Bureau, Washington, D. C., Oct. 3.

Senator Hitchcock (Neb.), ranking Democratic member of the Foreign Relations Committee and leader of the fight in the Senate last year in behalf of the League of Nations, has been invited to confer with Woodrow Wilson at his home here. The Senator said he would call on Mr. Wilson within a day or two.

News of the impending conference between the two champions of the league was regarded generally as confirmation of the reports that Mr. Wilson is taking a keen interest in the peace treaty controversy and that he is not unwilling to use his influence in the framing of the policy which will guide the Democrats in the fight against ratification.

Senator Hitchcock favors ratification, but he probably will not hesitate to support reservations which the Democratic Senators are planning to offer for the preserving of their allegiance to Wilsonian doctrines in foreign affairs.

On the heels of constantly recurring reports of Mr. Wilson's participation in the treaty contest came information that William J. Bryan has been exerting his influence in behalf of prompt ratification, and that he has succeeded in winning several Democratic Senators to his view. Mr. Bryan believes the treaty issue was one of the chief causes of Democratic disaster in the election last year, and he is urging his late followers to get rid of it at the earliest possible date.

Canvass of the Senate by THE NEW YORK HERALD to-day indicated that probably not more than twenty votes will be registered against ratification of the treaty of peace with Germany. It will be ratified by a safe margin despite the fact that a two-thirds vote is required.

The Democrats, according to the canvass, will cast all but two or three of the votes against the treaty. Seventeen Democratic Senators are counted against it. They are:

|------------------|------------------|
| Ashurst (Ariz.) | Overman (N. C.) |
| Caraway (Ark.) | Reed (Mo.) |
| Culberson (Tex.) | Sheppard (Tex.) |
| Glass (Va.) | Smith (S. C.) |
| Harris (Ga.) | Stanley (Ky.) |
| Harrison (Miss.) | Swanson (Va.) |
| Hedin (Ala.) | Watson (Ga.) |
| King (Utah) | Williams (Miss.) |
| McKellar (Tenn.) | |

Seven Democrats who favor the treaty are:

|------------------|------------------|
| Dial (S. C.) | Underwood (Ala.) |
| Fletcher (Fla.) | Pomeroy (Ohio) |
| Hitchcock (Neb.) | Walsh (Conn.) |
| Trammell (Fla.) | |

Twelve may be listed as non-committal, although a majority of them are likely to support the treaty unless some unexpected pressure is brought to bear on them. They are:

|-----------------|-----------------|
| Broussard (La.) | Pittman (Nev.) |
| Gerry (R. I.) | Randall (La.) |
| Jones (N. M.) | Robinson (Ark.) |
| Kendrick (Wyo.) | Shields (Tenn.) |
| Myers (Mo.) | Simmons (N. C.) |
| Owens (Okla.) | Walsh (Mass.) |

On the Republican side Senators Borah (Idaho) and La Follette (Wis.) are counted against it, and Senator Norris (Neb.), who is ill, is reported on the negative side.

IRELAND'S ENVOYS TO START SATURDAY

De Valera Will Not Go to London for Conference, Says Sinn Fein Minister.

By the Associated Press.

DUBLIN, Oct. 3.—It is announced that the Sinn Fein delegates to the London conference will leave Dublin next Saturday. E. J. Connelley, the novelist, and Finian Lynch, Sinn Fein member of Parliament for South Kerry, have been appointed secretaries of the conference. Eamon de Valera will not be one of the Sinn Fein delegates, according to Desmond Fitzgerald, the Sinn Fein Minister of Propaganda.

Numerous newspaper writers and photographers were permitted on Sunday to visit the camp in the Dublin hills of the Sixth Battalion of the South Dublin Brigade, Republican Army, to witness the inspection of the troops. Throughout Ireland drilling and inspections of this kind have been proceeding since the truce was signed.

This battalion ordinarily numbers about 1,000, but 120 of its members are at present interned and about 100 are on leave of absence. The battalion is well equipped with arms and furnished with what is termed "efficient incendiary services."

The commandant was a young man of 21 years, who fought, when 16, in the Easter rebellion. A formidable class at revolver practice was observed. It consisted of thirty youths, each with a first class weapon. Special attention was being given to promptness in firing and picking up a mark. In the rifle class the men had the latest pattern British army service rifle, and there was also a skilled snailshooting class.

Many of the instructors and men had served in the British army during the war. Two machine guns stood on the ground, and a large class was studying and taking them apart and reassembling them.

The battalion marched past the Republican headquarters staff and formed a hollow square. The men were addressed by Chief of Staff Mulcahy. He said that their leaders were negotiating with the enemy leaders, but at the same time the enemy's foot was still on Ireland's throat and they must be prepared, if necessary, for a renewal of the war.

Patou's Sashed
Dinner Gown of Broché Crepe
in Replica . . 65.00

TO the formal dignity of a gown of black broché crepe with softly draped low waistline, is added the vivacity of a flowing sash of jade, fuchsia or American beauty Georgette crepe, and the gay color is glimpsed in a camisole when the arms are lifted.

POISE is the peculiar ingratiating quality that typifies Patou's creations—a studied subtlety of draping that moulds itself with softest grace in lines that follow the wearer's attitudes in motion or repose. This elusive quality as well as the beautiful detail of the Paris original is reproduced in its replica.
